SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Seize your opportunity to sponsor

AFloat 2025

AFloat 2025 is an exclusive, invitation-only event bringing together the leading minds shaping the future of floating offshore wind. Hosted on the University of Maine campus, this year's event offers sponsors unprecedented access to key decision makers in ocean energy engineering — including senior developers, researchers, policymakers, and supply chain innovators.

As a sponsor, you'll align your brand with the forefront of U.S. offshore wind innovation. AFloat 2025 offers the rare opportunity to engage directly with a curated audience of industry pioneers, influential stakeholders, and the next generation of engineering talent.

This year's agenda will explore cutting-edge advancements in floating technologies, research and development priorities, permitting pathways, and design innovation. Through focused discussions and targeted networking, AFloat 2025 will address technical, regulatory, and policy-driven challenges impacting the industry.

Sponsorship benefits include:

High-impact brand visibility throughout the event

Direct access to decision makers and project leads in a curated setting

Opportunities to showcase your solutions to an engaged and influential audience

Custom marketing and outreach exposure, including press releases, social media, and onsite recognition

Position your organization as a thought leader driving the future of offshore wind. Partner with AFloat 2025 to make meaningful connections, amplify your impact, and help accelerate the deployment of floating wind in the U.S. and around the world.
